EASTFORD

Unexpected Death of Rev. Arthur Fay Linscott, Pastor of Congregational Church.

The people of Eastford and vicinity were greatly shocked and grieved to hear Monday afternoon that Rev. Arthur Fay Linscott, pastor of the Congregational church had died at the hotel at 2 o'clock, after a short illness with pneumonia. He had not been feeling well for a couple of days but did not give up until Wednesday night of last week.

Mr. Linscott was born in Troy, Me., March 4, 1855. He attended the public schools of that place, afterwards graduating from Bates college, Lewiston, Me., and Hartford (Connecticut) Seminary. He went to Cromwell as pastor but because of a serious illness had to give up. He came here as pastor, April 19, 1916, where he gained the love and esteem of the whole community.

He was a man of noble character, always cheerful and willing to help those in trouble, the last days of his life being spent in doing for others.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church, Rev. F. D. Sargent, pastor of the Congregational church, Putnam, officiating, assisted by Rev. P. S. Collins of the Baptist church, North Ashford.

A young man, a very close friend of the deceased, brought greetings of sympathy from the Hartford Seminary and also from Cromwell. He said there were many and hearts in both places, who mourned Mr. Linscott's death. It was remarked by Rev. Mr. Sargent at the funeral that "the deceased had met the ministers of the county at Cromwell, four miles away, and that they had all learned to love him."

Miss Edith Spaulding, Mrs. A. M. Keith, Mrs. Fred Bowen, Miss Gladys Badger and Miss Linscott sang, "A Home on High" and Miss Spaulding sang, "Face to Face." Mrs. Charles W. Clark, organist of the church, was at the organ. The choir were Gilbert Deane, William Warren, Charles Tatem and Carlton Tatem. There were many beautiful floral tributes.
